We're All Chargers!

What's in a name? The dictionary defines a "charger" as "a cavalry horse." Extending this to our high school mascot, we see ourselves as leaders of metaphorical battle charges. Perhaps these "charges" are on the sports fields; perhaps they symbolize efforts within the classroom. The Class of Nineteen Ninety-six's banner portrays their motto of "Charging to be the Best," so our seniors can be said to be charging into the future, what Shakespeare calls "the undiscovered country." We may each go by our individual name, but our common bond is that faculty, staff, and student body alike are all Chancellor Chargers — and are proud of it!

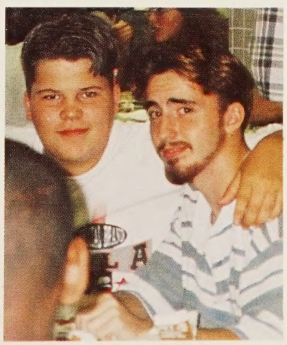
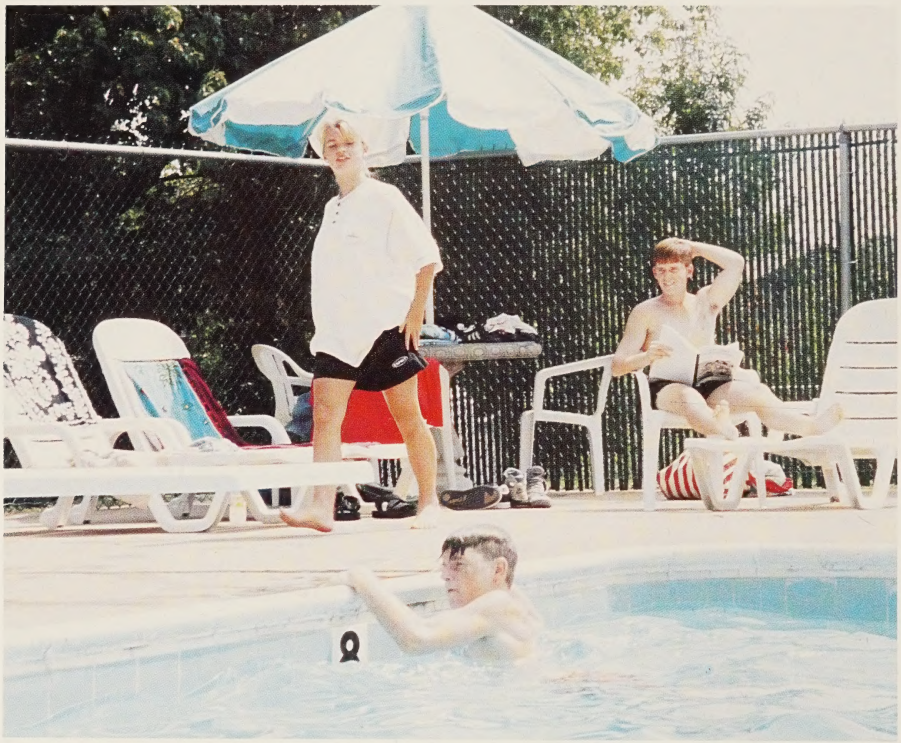
You want it? Just name it!

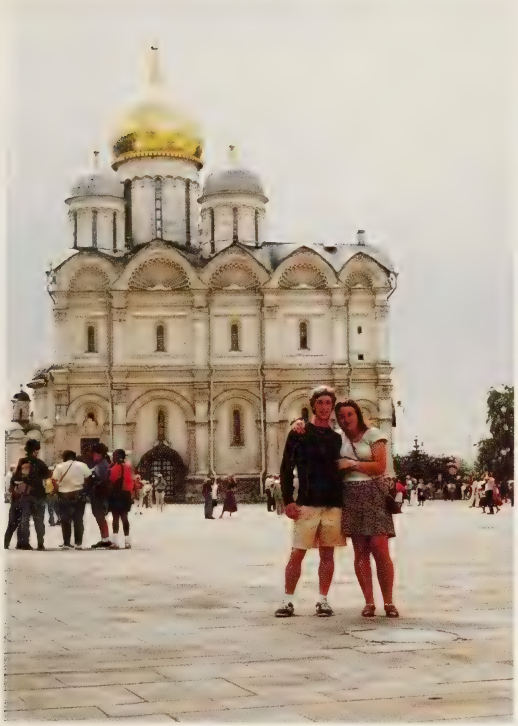
You want it? Just name it! Student life at Chancellor is a mixture of many things, whether it's working, shopping, or talking with friends. We are all individuals here, but one common thing we share is that our high school memories will last a lifetime. Friendships made here often last forever.

Paul Daniels enjoys his free time in the swimming pool. Andrew Roberts relaxes before class. Marilyn Rodriguez and Kim Rooker enjoy their first day in homeroom. Chrissy Lopez and Steve Franzien walk to school before the morning bell rings.



Name Your Adventure





Chancellor's students share their adventures. Kevin Robbins visited Moscow and made a Russian friend. Some of Chancellor's students spent their summer at Castle Park pool. Jennifer and Lisa Gough spent their Summer learning how to ride a motorcycle. Stephanie and Ali Duncan enjoy themselves at Saint Augustine. Rachael Thomas, Eric Thomas, Mike Maurice, Charlie Simpson, Kevin Wingfield and Sharee Wingfield went to Salzburg, Austria this summer.

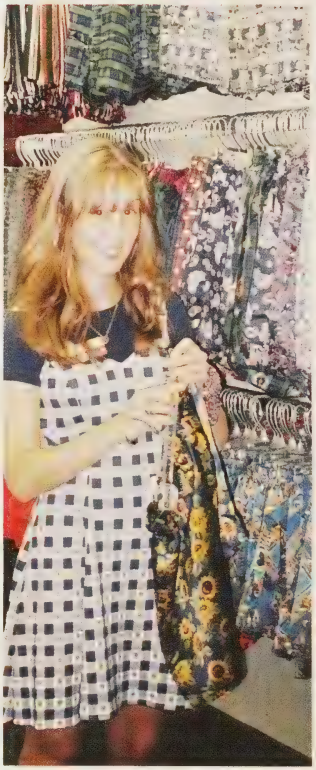
Work Hard ...

The marching band works hard during the summer to be successful at competitions. Cheerleaders practice hard to keep their spirits up at football games. The football players take a break after a hard practice.

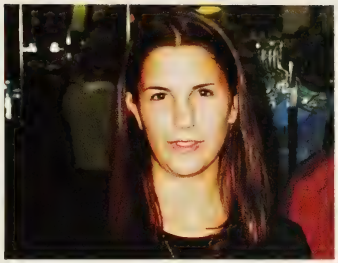
To Have

A Name

Chargers



Many Chargers are employed by local businesses and bring youth and vitality to our community. Katie Leiss, Evan Thomas, Brian Walker, and Daniel Rubin provide the movie theater with friendly service. Susan Wilhelm, Sharon Lawrence, and Julie Allen keep merchandise organized. Mike Baggett and Kim Petway take inventory while Tony Bradley and Heather Sexton anxiously await the next customers.



Many Chancellor students commit themselves to summer jobs at Spotsylvania Mall.

Some of the many students who have summer jobs include Breck Perry at Chic-Fil-A. Marilyn Rodriguez keeps records for County Seat. Kara Hall, Sherri Johnson, and Lori White keep our department stores organized. William Ivy has become an expert at The Coffee Beanery, and Haley Burnett has the exciting job of operating the Carousel.

The first pep rally of the year was held on Friday, September 8, in the gymnasium. The cheerleaders organized the show, and every athletic team was involved. Excitement was high as the student body prepared for that evening's football game against North Stafford.

Spirit

No matter what they participate in, Chancellor students are lively and spirited.

Spir • it • ed (spir-i-tid) adj. 1. full of spirit, lively, ready to assert oneself. 2. having mental spirit of spirits of a certain kind.

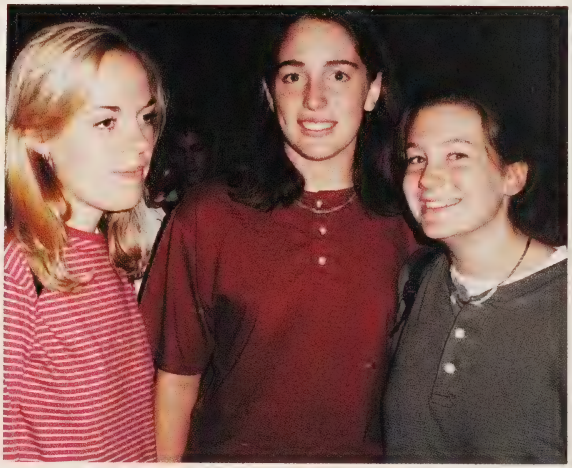
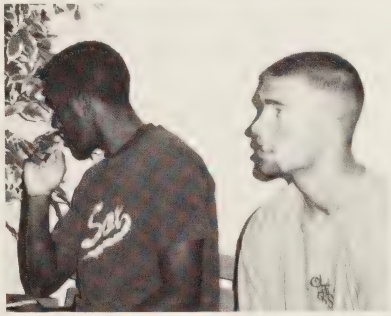
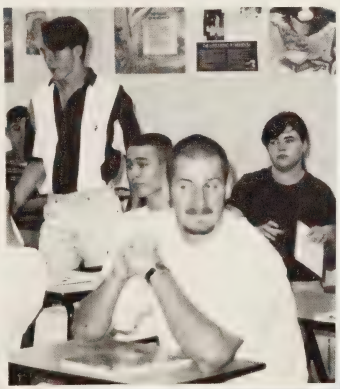
The First Week

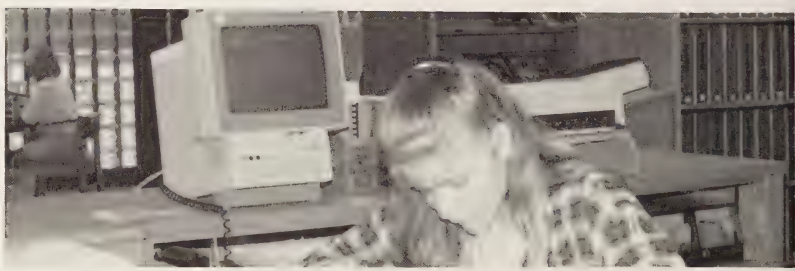


The first week of school means different things to different people. Ginny McKinney and Kensey Geis serve Mr. DeMarco at the S.C.A. sponsored breakfast on the first day of school. Kerri Johnson, Amy Anderson, and Nicole White enjoy talking to each other before the motivational assembly. These students exit the bus excited about the day ahead. The Junior Class motivational assembly was a hit, these students are really charged. Katie Aten and Kelly Blankenship discuss their summer vacations while Suzanne Nissim-Sabat exits her car with a smile. Julie Anderson and two of her friends walk into school together. Jennifer Heflin, Melissa Hanson, and Melanie Hayes are glad to see each other again. This Freshmen homeroom is learning the ins and outs of high school while this Junior homeroom learns about the new attendance policy. Ellen Rohrbaugh, Jeremy Higgs, and Katy Shaw embrace each other in the hall. Darrin Comfort and David Dunavant sit on a bench while Erica Ford and Sarah DeRiggi stand in the commons area. Derrick Wilson finds a chair to rest in. Nathan Hild and Josh Klaus have fun at the first dance of the school year.

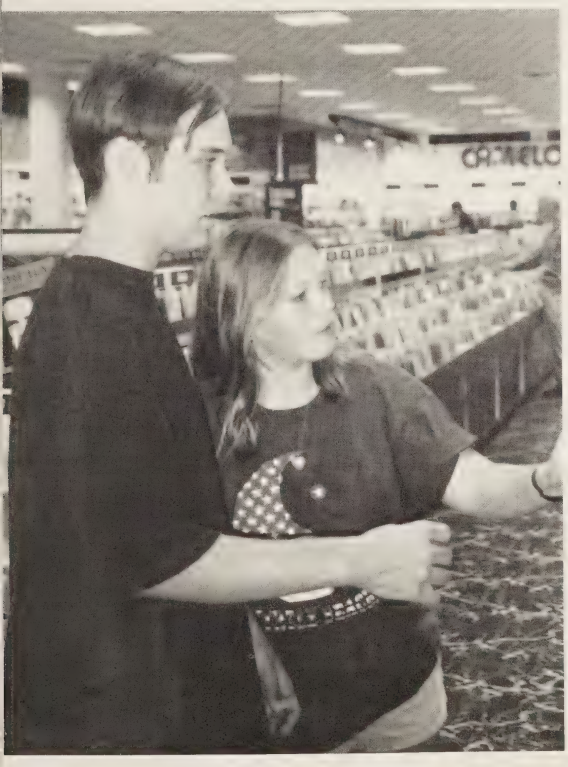




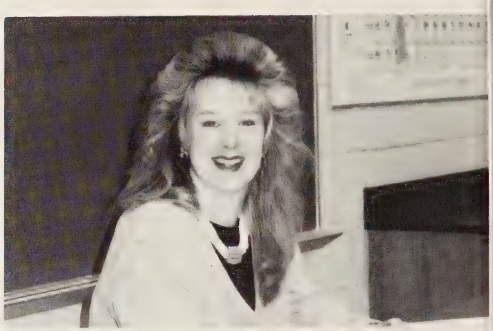
A Day In The Life Of A Charger



The first day of school finds these sophomores in homeroom reviewing the rules of school. Joey Cook works hard at the computer. Nicky Ordonia aids in the library while Jack Willet kicks a hackey sack and Lindy Nichols takes a nap in the S.C.A. office. Carrie Oaks and Tyson Reishart study hard on a bench. Julie Mullins and David Loving enjoy a day of shopping at the mall. B.J. Wilson catches up on the day's sports.



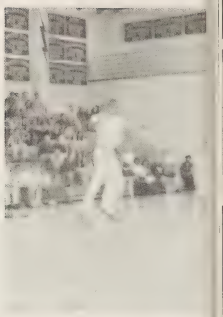
New Names In The Crowd

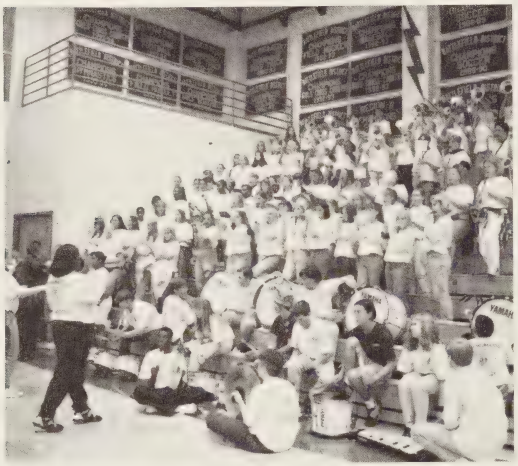


Our two foreign exchange students, Samuel Textor and Claudio Lamprecht join Chancellor's senior class. Samuel is from Switzerland and Claudio is here from Germany. Mrs. Wendy Abner takes time out of her busy schedule to smile for the camera. Ms. Sharon Harrison, Chancellor's new Guidance counselor makes many phone calls during her busy days. A group of freshmen enjoy waiting in line for lunch.

The new teachers that join us this year are Ms. Sharon Harrison, Miss R.C. Poythress, Miss Jenna Conners, Mrs. Maggie Loughan, Miss Cheryl Meeks, Mrs. Kelly Naccarato, Mr. Linwood Swann, Mr. Terry Mehan, Mr. Gene Glamm, Miss Patricia Jones, and Ms. Angie Adiar. Mike Amodie and Kevin Nave walk up from the field after school pictures. Ashley Sullivan and Nicole Musselman sit and enjoy lunch together. Jordache Braxton tries to open his locker. William Hamilton talks with his group of friends during lunch.

Homecoming 1995

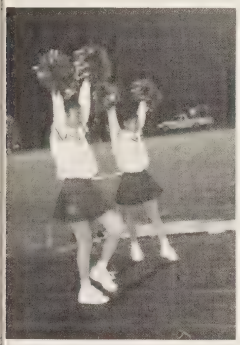


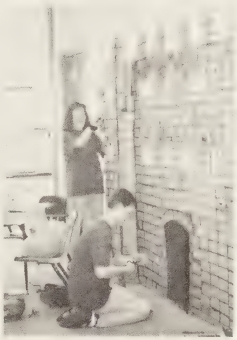


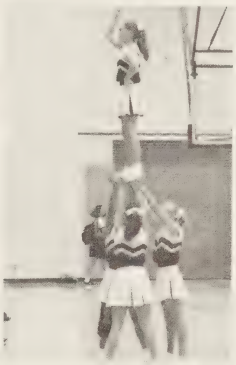
Homecoming is preceded at Chancellor by Spirit Week, sponsored by the S.C.A. This is made up of Twin Day/Hat Day, Tie Dye Day, Turn Back the Clock Day, Sports Day, and School Colors Day. The Seniors proved their spirit during the pep rally by winning the cheer contest. The Camelot Grand Award for the overall-best homecoming wall was won this year by the Latin Club. Senior Jason Little had the best Baby Doll Jump in the jump contest. To add to the spirit of the day, our pep band was great. Lisa Perry and Kathy Denny wore tie dyed T-shirts, and Jenny and Lisa Gough dressed for twins day. No one adds more spirit to the day than Chancellor's cheerleaders.

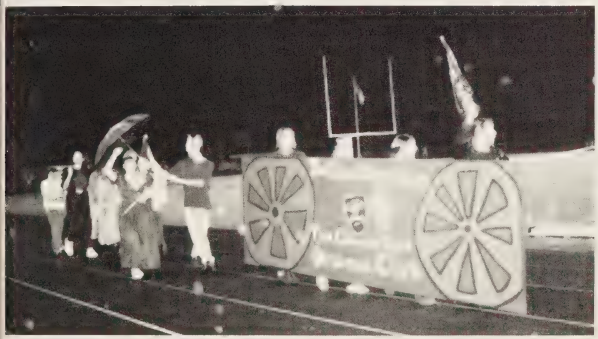
During the homecoming game, the only thing that dampened our spirits — other than the downpour during the coronation of Shay Lassiter and Patrick Carroll at halftime — was our loss to Courtland. There is no way to judge the hundreds of hours of work that go into the planning and preparation for the walls, floats, and dance decorating.

Many of our clubs and all four classes decorated walls and floats for homecoming. Even in the rain, the Latin Club marched in like proud warriors. Most Spirited Award went to the Chargerette Dance/Drill Team; Spanish Club won Most Original; Drama Club won Most Creative.





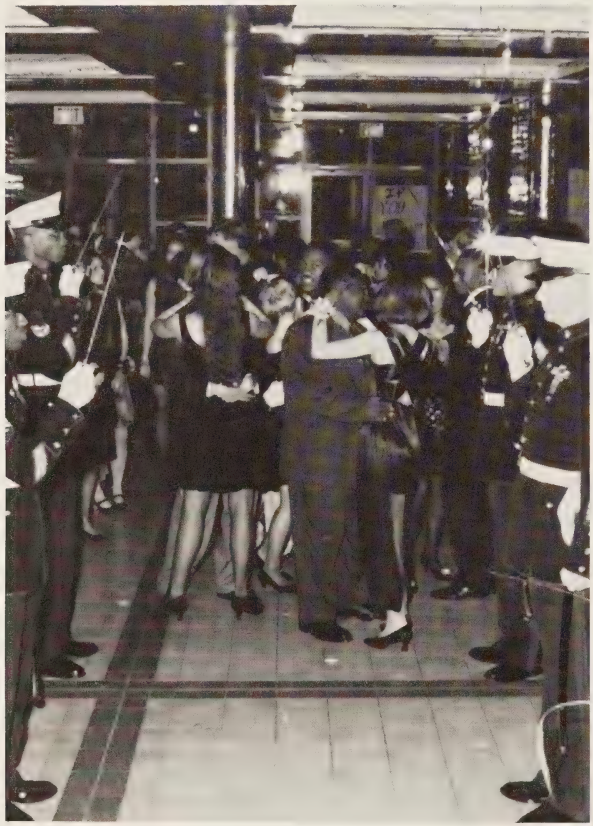


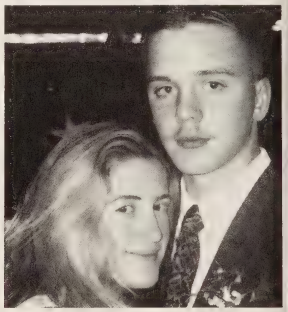


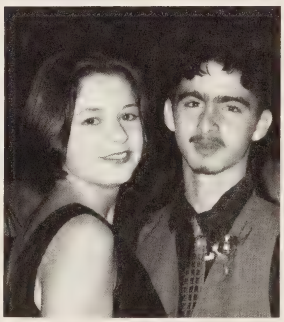
Camelot At Chancellor

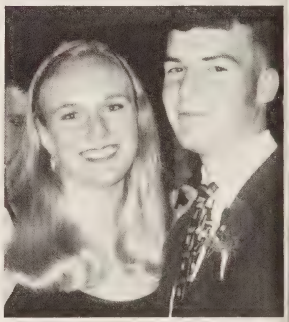
The Royal Camelot Court and festivities for 1995 Homecoming was presided over by Queen Shay Lassiter and King Patrick Carroll. Senior Attendants were Kara Hall, Kara Kembro, Joy Lucas, Lindy Nichols, Tim Reid, Paul Lawson, Sy Nease, and Rhett Carlin. Junior Attendants included Allison Marcus, Shannon Carter, Jeremy Higgs, and Naeem Coleman. Sophomore Attendants were Nettie Sanchez, Michelle Mendez, Preston Graves, and Brad Haun. Freshmen Attendants were Julia Westcott, Julie Klein, Brian McGuire, and Darius Hobdy.

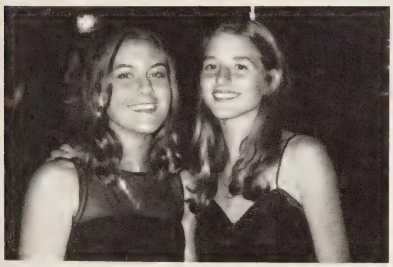
The dance was attended by hundreds of Chancellor students and their guests, all of whom enjoyed the wonderful decorations and the spirit of the evening.

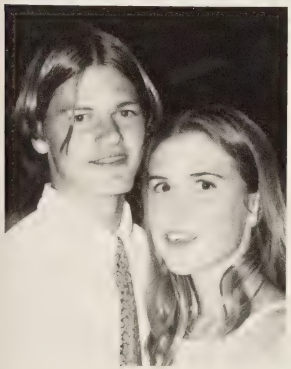


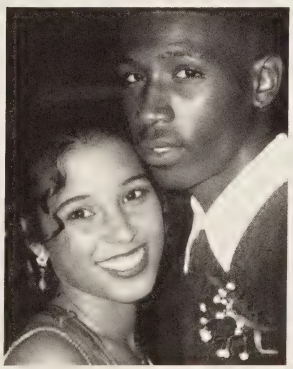


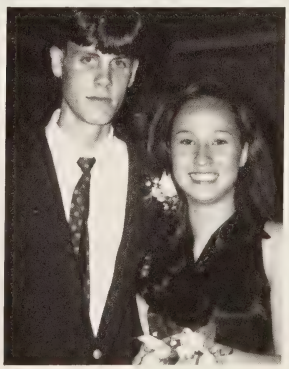






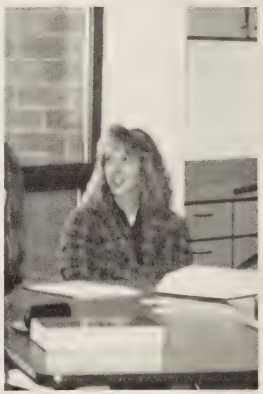


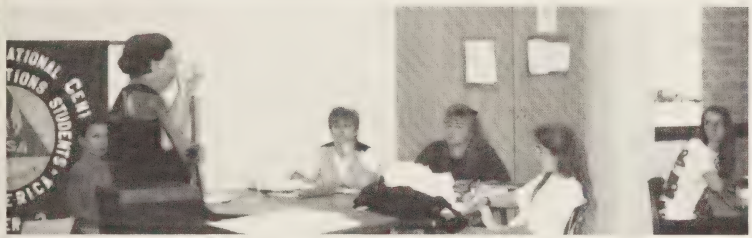




Spotsylvania Vocational Center

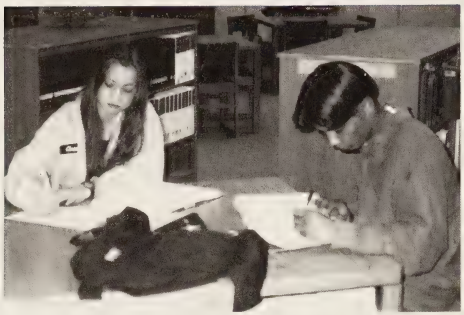
Anji Lauff and Jenny Talley prepare a meal as part of their culinary class. George Jones works with other students on a project in his multimedia class. Matt Chenault, Shawn Norbrey, and Marshall Reed watch as J.T. Burruss points out an engine part. Tammy Conway listens attentively in her nursing class.





Niki Brown practices a hairstyle on a mannequin in her Cosmetology class, while Jennifer Heflin listens to her teacher. Matt Salay, Mike Miller, and Chris Greenhalgh watch as Duke Pratt-Smith sets the type. J.T. Burruss and Marshall Reed work on the engine.

Name Any Activity And The Chargers Are Involved!

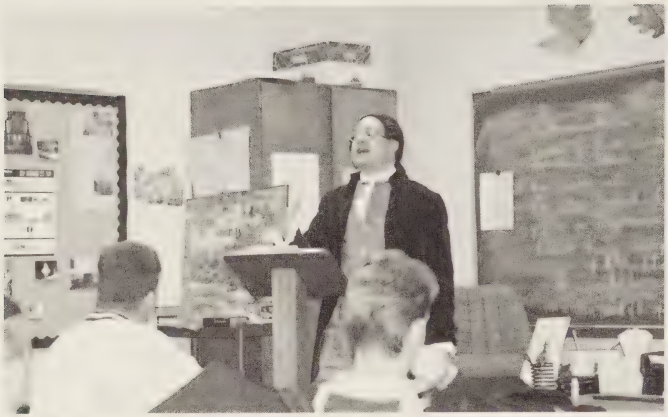


Chancellor students continue working hard for classes, clubs, sports, and other activities into the year. But they also manage to have fun as the year progresses, enjoying time with old and new friends. Mrs. Mullins' AP senior english classes and Mrs. Shinberger's advanced junior english classes learn an African tribal ritual. Rose Fiore and Bryan Bryant concentrate on getting their work done in the library. Amy Creech and Malinda Edwards help out in the school store during fifth period, while Leslie Burke and Katie Little enjoy their lunch outside. Julie Allen and Sarah Hill help each other out with homework.

Jackie Graham and Elisabet Gamage show their strong friendship and matching outfits. Junior friends enjoy having the extra time to talk. Joy Lucas is kept busy in her job as Senior class Reporter-Historian. Kelly Blankenship flies high with a little help from her friend, Kelly McCullough.

Dawn Harmon not only plays for the Girls' Varsity Basketball team, she also displays her vocal talent by singing the National Anthem at the team's games. Tina Owens smiles at the thought of an early dismissal. Tamika Morefield shines after accomplishing what few others could do — enforcing "Stay behind the white line!" on class picture day.

Holidays



The first holiday for Chancellor students, Labor Day, marks the beginning of a new school year. Many students enjoyed dressing up on Halloween. On Election Day, "Patrick Henry" came to speak in Mrs. Pennington's english classes. Students showed their spirit for giving during Thanksgiving. 2,000 cans were collected and 40 turkeys were given to the Department of Social Services. Students also got a chance, to vote for "Turkey of the Year" — Mr. Oliver won this distinction.

When Christmas came, there were decorations everywhere. Ms. Cole and Mrs. Naccarato won the door-decorating contest. A Christmas concert was held December 12th, with the symphonic band, concert band, advanced choir, and concert choir performing.

In Dedication To

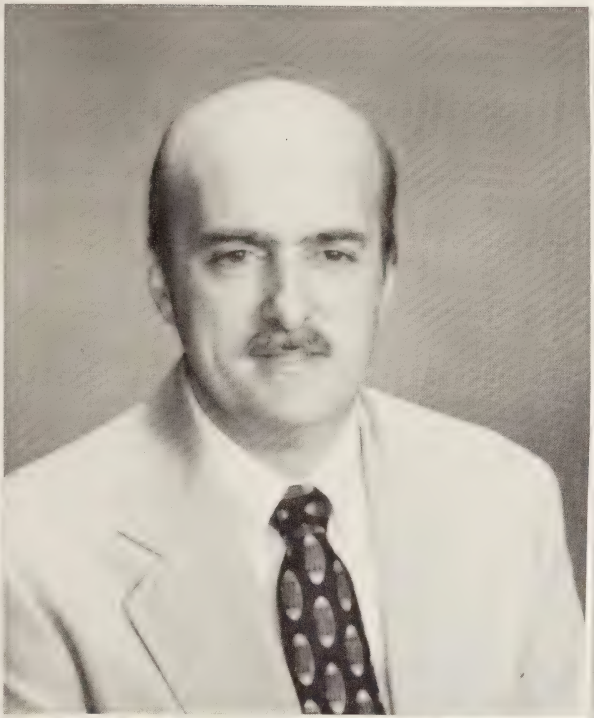
John S. Clements

January 30, 1947-October 9, 1995

This year began sadly with Chancellor Chargers saying good-bye to Mr. John Clements, physical education teacher, head varsity boys basketball coach, and assistant football coach for the past five years. Coming to Spotsylvania from Middlesex High School, as basketball coach here, Mr. Clements led the Chargers toward improvement each year he was coach.

Coach Clements' players and students will miss his positive influence and professional demeanor; his peers shall always remember him as a gentleman and a scholar.

Mr. John R. Marra, Jr., Principal



Visibility, Support, And Long Hours Lead To Success

Most any time during the day, especially when the lobby and halls are most crowded, one finds Mr. Marra in the lobby speaking with students or in the halls encouraging the tardy students into their classrooms. Visibility is an important part of Mr. Marra's job. He is readily accessible to students and faculty alike, as are the members of his support staff. For these reasons, and the fact that it is not unusual for any of the principals to all work 60-75 hour weeks, discipline is maintained and the school runs well even in light of our population growth. This year we began the year with 1,485 students and 130 faculty and staff members. We began using four trailers parked by the faculty parking lot; with next year's growth, we may see even more "teaching cottages."

Assistant Principals

Takes Three To Do The Job

Our assistant principals are always working hard to fulfill their job. They are always here to lend a helping hand to teachers and students.

Office Staff

Helping To Run Our School

As our head secretary, Mrs. Calavetinos has lots of work to do year around. Mrs. Karen Harrison helps tremendously at the main office but she always has time for a smile. Mrs. Scott handles all the accounts of the school and its clubs. Mrs. Cechman is our attendance secretary here at Chancellor. She consistently comes through for us when we need her. Thanks to our wonderful office staff!

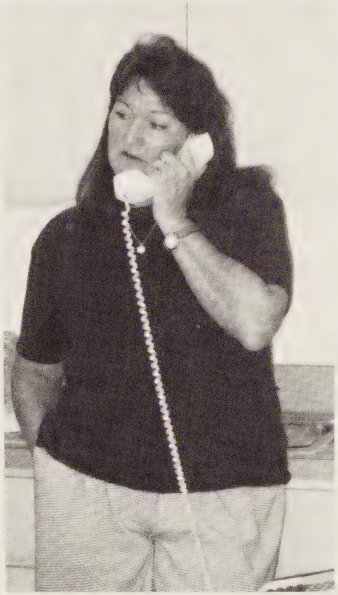
Mrs. Gerry Calvetinos

Mrs. Karen Harrison

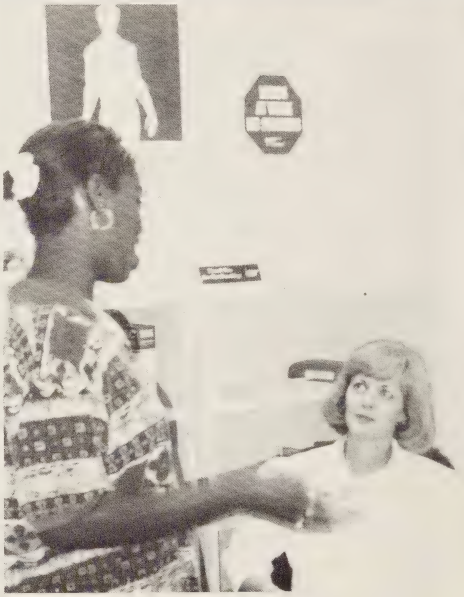
Mrs. Dorothy Scott

Mrs. Judy Cechman

Serving Students With A Smile



Chancellor's dedicated guidance counselors spend many hours before, during, and after school, as well as in the summer, preparing students to meet their academic or vocational futures. Not only do they put together complicated class schedules, they work with students on college application transcripts and recommendations. These people are essential to a successful school year. Above, sophomore counselor Mrs. Portner speaks over the phone to a concerned parent. Guidance office secretary Mrs. Bane smiles and laughs as she works. Mrs. Bane says the favorite part of her job is "working with students and seeing them succeed in college and coming back to visit." Chancellor's Director of Counseling is Mrs. Jeanette Stewart.



Mrs. Brenda Mills

Chancellor's warm-hearted and helpful nurse is Mrs. Mills. Mrs. Mills enjoys helping people solve their problems, yet the least favorite part of her job is the tremendous amount of paperwork. She describes her worst day at work, with a laugh, as flu season.

Mrs. Crystal F. Bane

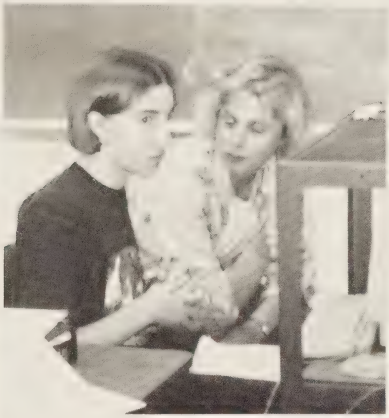
Ms. Sharron Harrison

Mrs. Diane Portner

Mrs. Jeanette B. Stewart

English Department



Because students are required to take an English class each year, this department at Chancellor is one of the largest. The department is filled with many teachers who take an active part in the school's activities, both during the day and extracurricular. For example, at left Senior teacher and Literary Magazine sponsor Mrs. DeVall is pictured working with Justin Dodd, poetry editor. Mrs. DeVall says that the least favorite part of her job is bathroom duty, and the most unusual thing she has seen at work was a former student who had the ability to put his entire fist into his mouth! At right English Department chairperson Ms. Bauer works diligently with Brandi Coles to answer a question. Ms. Bauer loves to work creatively with students to understand literature, history, and art. No matter what the activity, English teachers at Chancellor are caring and innovative.

Mrs. Barbara Light

Mrs. Rita Mullins

Mrs. Cheryl M. Nelson

Mrs. Sandra S.

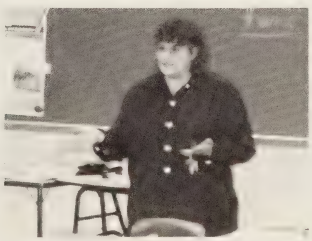
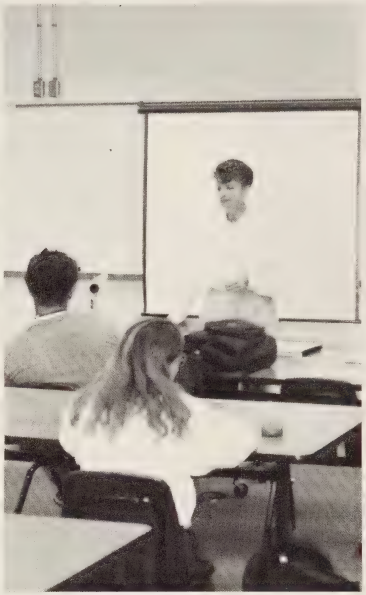
Mrs. Molly Shinberger



Mrs. Mullins is a dedicated Senior English teacher. Her favorite part of teaching is challenging students minds. When asked to describe the most unusual thing she has experienced at work she says: "How about the day the elastic broke in my slip (as I walked down the hall) and it pooled around my feet? I stepped out of it and dropped it in the trash. Quickly, I scurried away."

Vocational Department



The Vocational Department teaches practical life skills. Some of the many classes offered are Basic Technical Drawing, Life Management, Food Management, and Child, Marriage, and Family Life. Some teachers in the Vocational Department wish that they could change one thing about the school. Ms. Walker says that she would change "School spirit. I'd love to see "everyone" more involved in our school and the activities that we sponsor". Ms. Stello would change the "lack of money, room, and too large class sizes."

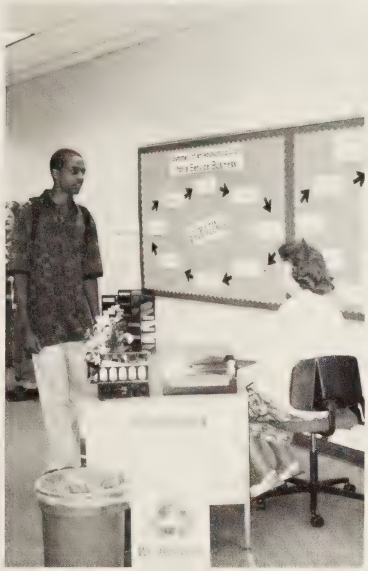
Business Department



The Business Department's main focus is to prepare students to meet the demands of the future. They teach practical skills for students heading to college and the business world. They offer a variety of classes such as Keyboarding Applications, Computer Information, Notetaking, Principles of Business, and many more.

When the Business teachers were asked what their favorite part of the job was, Ms. Bowler said "interacting with the students". Miss Orebaugh responded "working with the students and FBLA". Mrs. Taylor said the least favorite part of her job is "proofreading timed writings". Mrs. Edwards' worst day is "when the computer equipment does not work". Mrs. Daughtery and Mrs. Murray are not pictured.

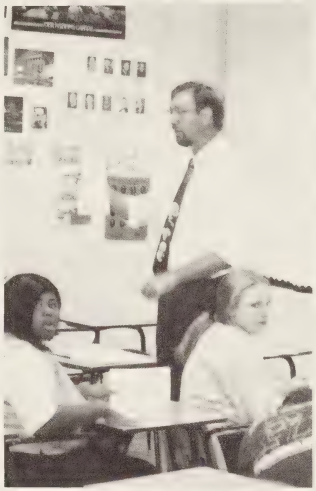
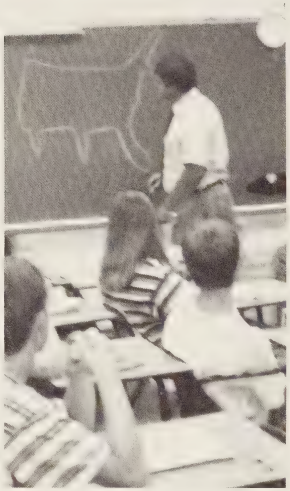
Miss Lesley Orebaugh

Mrs. Wanda G. Taylor

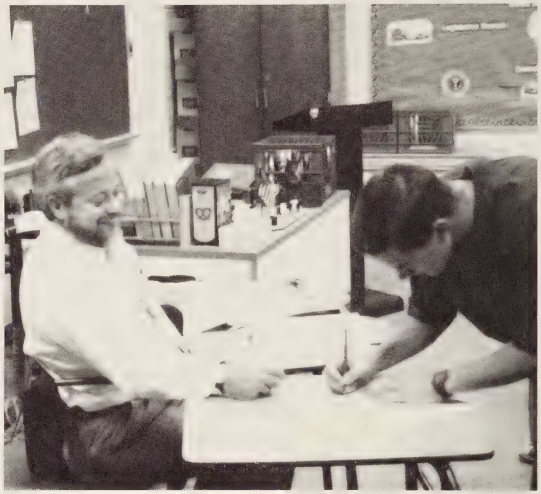
Social Studies Department



Mr. Stableford explains a worksheet to his students. When asked what the least favorite part of his job is, Mr. Stableford replied, "recycling aluminum cans from the cafeteria trash cans on mashed potatoes and jello days".



Mr. Ridgeway draws one of his famous maps. He is the only teacher at Chancellor who teaches A.P. American History. In addition to teaching at Chancellor, Mr. Ridgeway also teaches a class at Germanna Community College.



Mr. Shinberger offers valuable advice to Eddie Reagan. The most unusual thing Mr. Shinberger has seen at work is "Jerry Pritchett's head being shaved". If Mr. Shinberger could change one thing about school it would be the "concept that it is boring and not useful to one's future".

Mr. Yealy, a math and science teacher, describes his favorite part of his job to be when a student says, "I understand."

There are some things that the science teachers would change if given the chance. Ms. Cohen would like to improve school spirit. Mrs. Jamerson would make the halls wider, while Miss Meeks would provide comfortable student's desks with softer seats because she believes comfort is the key to learning. Mrs. Yealy suggests longer lunch periods.

Science teachers responded differently when ask their favorite part of their job. Ms. Cohen's favorite part is being with her students and cheerleaders and getting to know them as individuals. Mr. Martin describes his favorite part of his job as detention hall. Mr. McLeod enjoys playing with toys and building things starting with nothing but an idea.

Seniors Name Their Preferences

While most Seniors use the common excuses of car problems, illness, sleeping in, or appointments, some are creative as they sign-in late:
— "Receiving a vision from God"
— "Abducted by a Turkish pole-vaulter"
— "Went to church"
— "Trapped in a trash can"

Seniors shared their favorite birthday gifts which cost less than $20. Most wrote of flowers, cards, clothing, pets, and music; however, some students received unusual gifts, such as:
— "Isotoner slippers"
— "A liquid kaleidescope"
— "A homemade book from my best friend"
— "My Chicken Soup for the Soul book"

Seniors mentioned their favorites. McDonald's is the favorite fast food restaurant by 19.5%, with Taco Bell, Burger King, Rally's, and Chic-Fil-A following closely behind. Favorite music groups/singers (in descending order) are: Live, Led Zeppelin, Boyz II Men & Cranberries, Aerosmith & TLC (tied), Garth Brooks & Hootie and the Blowfish (tied). Pulp Fiction is the favorite movie, followed by Legends of the Fall, Lion, King, Dangerous Minds, and Star Wars. Friends far exceeded any other TV show as the favorite. Other popular shows are Seinfeld, New York Undercover, Martin, and Home Improvement. The favorite school subject is English, with 19.9%. The next favorite is Science with 13.4%, followed by Math, Social Studies, Art, and Vocational.

Seniors' greatest expense is clothes, with car upkeep closely behind. Other expenses, such as food, music, friends, and recreation, were about equal.

The responses seniors gave to the question "How have you changed over the summer?" reflected a growing and changing class. Most commonly heard was "more mature." Other responses included:
— "I learned how to whistle"
— "I am older"
— "I still don't have wings"

When asked to define "popular," most seniors wrote about being well-known and involved. Others take a different view, as seen by the following quotes:
— "A foreign element from Arabia"
— "Having the best hair"
— "Isn't that a type of tree?"
— "The word shouldn't even be a word"

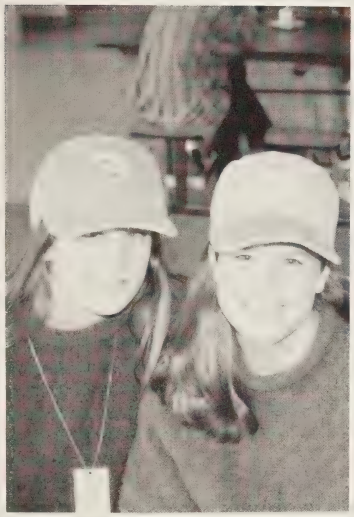
Sophomores Reflect Their Preferences



Holly Turney and Andrea Smith dress alike for twin day.

In the beginning of the school year sophomores were asked to fill out a survey on various topics. When asked what school subject was their favorite 24% replied Math, 17% thought English, and 15% answered Science. Sophomores' favorite restaurant is McDonalds at 38% with Taco Bell coming in second at 19%. The most difficult chores at home were cleaning their rooms and mowing the lawn. Sophomores' greatest expense, with 53% agreeing, are clothes.

Class of 1998 loves chips, pizza, ice cream, and cookies for a snack, but some crave something a little more unique such as frozen peaches, oatmeal, chicken fingers, paper, and chocolate covered grasshoppers. After school, while their parents work, sophomores usually watch some T.V., do homework, and talk on the telephone. Basically they just chill.

Chancellor offers a variety of sports to its students. Fall sports include football, cheerleading, field hockey, cross country track, girls' basketball, and golf. Winter sports are boys' basketball, gymnastics, cheerleading, wrestling, and indoor track. Spring sports consist of softball, baseball, boys' and girls' track, boys' and girls' tennis, and boys' and girls' soccer. Since Chancellor has been open, each of these teams have seen much success, some even capturing district, region, and state titles. Many of our coaches and athletes have won individual honors, as well. Chancellor athletes excel not only during games and practices, but also in the academic classroom and as leaders of the other organizations at CHS. Whether on or off the athletic field, Chancellor students shine as examples for other schools to follow.

Varsity Football

The Varsity Football team had a much better season than last year, winning five out of ten games. The strength of the individual players, combined with the total effort of the team, was the key to this success. Hopefully the Chargers will continue to improve and will make a lasting impression on the other schools in the district next year. The team has many seniors who will graduate this spring. Although these seniors will be missed next year, there are many younger players who will carry on the tradition of Charger excellence. Below, Alex Frost and Ryan Knowles move to their positions.

Before ... and After ...

Above, the team plans their next score-winning strategy. At right, Sean Carter gives a jubilant thumbs-up as another touchdown is made.

In the two pictures above, Darren Hickman runs onto the field before a game. Later in the same game, Alek Frost catches the pass.

The Junior Varsity football team had an outstanding season with seven wins and one loss. The individual efforts of team members as well as the whole group contributed to their success. They ended their season as J.V. Battlefield District Champions, showing much promise for the forthcoming seasons. At the bottom left, Darnell Mitchell rushes down the field toward the endzone. At the bottom right, Jason Drugatz shows speed and skill.

Chancellor Cheerleaders are some of our most spirited students. They spend long hours during the summer, after school, and during games working, bringing enthusiasm to fans and showing support for athletes. Pictured above is the fall varsity squad, performing one of many original dance routines at a pep rally. Below, the varsity cheerleaders ride their float during the Homecoming parade. Pictured in the bottom left corner are a few members of this year's J.V. squad, bringing spirit to the Homecoming pep rally.

Fall Cheerleading

Varsity Cheerleaders are: Sarah Rudd, Stephanie James, Laura Lyonnais, Carrie Mills, Amanda Bartlett, Rose Fiore, Melissa Nicholson, Jamie Bolger, Judith Press, Sarah Reynolds, and Meghan Gallagher.

J.V. Cheerleaders are: Bambi Jett, Ashley Sullivan, Nicole Musselman, Marianne Ayers, Andrea Smith, DeAnna Hamn, Samantha Jacobson, Michelle Olson, and Laura Hill. (Not pictured: Meghan Woodcock).

Coaches are: Cheryl Meeks, Vineeta Cohen, and Laura Blount.

As always, the Chancellor Boys' Basketball team showed success on the court this year. Practicing long hours every day after school, the team pulled together for a rewarding season. School spirit at all the games was high as fans cheered their team on to victory. Many key seniors are graduating this spring and will be greatly missed next year, but there are many talented players who will carry on the tradition of Charger excellence.

Always remember the joy's in the journey — The dream has brightly shone
Your source of strength, your source of hope — Is truly Christ Alone.
Rise in him like an eagle, may the fire never die.
Love Him more than anything — This is our heart's cry.
The time has passed so quickly — as we've loved and watched you grow.
The memories we will always treasure — from T-ball to the Pros!

Nick,

Thank you for the way you have brightened the lives of your family and friends. Through everyone fortunate enough to know you and flourish in the radiance of your smile, you have left your mark in this world.

You are an independent man — a man ahead of your time. We wish you health, good fortune, and the fullest rewards that life has to offer. May you succeed in college as you have done here at Chancellor High.

Keep your good humor in the challenges that lie ahead. Experience your life in your own way, in your own time. May God bless you and keep you in his graces.

With all of our love, Mom and Bill

The Wall
My mind is strong
My body is sound.
Wherever I go
I spread joy around.
Though criticized & ridiculed
Right from the start
I let it get to me
To my mind, to my heart
But I became solid and strong
Just like a wall
Hit me as hard as you like
but I will not fall
Through all the years
Of anguish and retribution
I have become one
To stop this soul pollution
I now vow
As long as I live
That I will never be broken
Or to their ways will I give
To the unfairness and evil
That lurks around
I will not run from it
Or give any ground
For I am a wall
Who is strong, who is sound.

Colophon

Chancellor's eighth yearbook by JOSTENS was created by a staff of eight, only two of whom are seniors — Copy Editor Christy Terrill and Photography Editor Jenny Blight. Junior Maria Chiesa returned to the staff this year and is our Layout Editor. Other members include Aliessa Duncan, Allison Gerber, Jeremy Higgs, Stephanie Duncan, and Marilyn Rodriguez, sponsored by Mrs. Gordon. Though the yearbook is a tremendous amount of work, sometimes are just for fun, like dinner at Outback Steakhouse. Work can be entertaining, too, and we manage to entertain ourselves alot. Just ask Ali, Allison & Christy.

Best of luck to our two graduates, Christy & Jenny!
